Trade.—The Oversea imports during March were valued at £2,814,847, and show an increase of £505,160, or 21·8 per cent., as compared with the corresponding month of last year. The total for the nine months, July to March, was £24,738,522, an increase of £3,108,486, or 14·4 per cent., in comparison with the figures for 1914-15. The principal articles to show increases were apparel and soft goods, cordage and twines, fish, hats and caps, iron and steel, preserved milk, tea, and tobacco, &c.

The Oversea exports during March amounted to £2,997,538, being a decrease of £103,778, or 3·3 per cent., as compared with the corresponding month of last year. For the nine months, July to March, the exports amounted to £31,661,458, being an increase of £10,580,208, or 50·2 per cent., compared with the same period for 1914-15.

On the 31st March, 1916, the Consolidated Revenue Account was in debit to the amount of £2,009,553.

Banks.—The most noticeable features in the banking averages for the quarter ended 31st March are the remarkable increase in current accounts, and the expansion of Government notes held. Compared with the corresponding period of last year, there was an increase of £8,789,112 in current accounts, and in deposits as a whole of £10,029,874, although the figures are inclusive of Savings Bank deposits—interest bearing—of the Commonwealth Bank of Australia. Reserves of coin and bullion exhibit a decrease of £3,067,696 during the year, and of £231,632 on the quarter's transactions. Advances increased by £3,016,749 during the year, and during the quarter by £767,806. The proportion of cash, bullion, and notes, to total liabilities now stands at 31·9 per cent., as compared with 29·6 per cent. in March last year. Included in the cash held is an amount of £12,911,995 Australian notes, as against £5,016,755 for the previous year.

Railways.—The report on railways for the quarter ended 31st March shows that in comparison with the corresponding quarter of last year, the earnings increased by £138,811, and the expenditure by £192,811. During the period there were 634,650 more train miles run, and the additional passengers carried numbered 845,001. Relatively the earnings decreased by 5d. and the expenditure increased by 1 $\frac{3}{4}$ d. per train mile.

The total earnings of all lines of Tramways, during the quarter, amounted to £514,661, and the working expenses to £378,560, leaving a surplus of £136,101.

Mineral Production, 1915.—The value of minerals won in New South Wales during 1915 was equal to £9,603,230, there being a net decrease of £434,790 on the value for 1914. This result is due to restricted output and falling prices, the direct effect of the war. To the total, gold contributed £562,819; silver and silver-lead, £2,631,662; coal, £3,424,630; copper, £234,437; and tin, £266,780. The aggregate value of all minerals won up to the end of 1915 is estimated at £261,255,303.

The gold yield during March was 10,470 oz. crude, equal to 8,533 oz. fine, valued at £36,246, and showed a decrease of 6,973 oz. fine, and £29,622 in value, compared with March of last year. The value of gold produced during the three months was £105,184, and showed a decrease of 15,067 oz. fine, and £64,001 in value, in the figures for the corresponding period of last year.

Cost of Living, Sydney.—From the information collected each month (see Table 57) as to the retail prices in Sydney of food and groceries, it appears that in March, 1916, prices were 31·3 per cent. higher than in July, 1914, 24·2 per cent. higher than in March, 1915, and 1·2 per cent. lower than in February, 1916.

Meat, which is included in the results quoted above, shows prices in March, 1916, 67·2 per cent. higher than in July, 1914, 55·8 per cent. higher than in March, 1915, and 3·2 per cent. higher than in February, 1916. The principal increases occurred in the prices of meat, jam, kerosene, and oatmeal, while decreased prices ruled for several commodities, notably potatoes and butter. The following is a statement of the price levels since July, 1914, the levels for which were taken as base and called 100:—

Land Selections.—During March, 113 applications were made for 56,500 acres under the Crown Lands Act; and 153,478 acres, representing 165 blocks, were gazetted for residential settlement. Since the beginning of the year the number of applications has been 356, and the area applied for 169,461 acres. The original area gazetted for residential settlement since the 1st January is 349,988 acres, representing 501 blocks.

Meteorology.—The rainfall in New South Wales during March was very poor and scattered in almost every part of the State, only a few places situated on the coast and highlands receiving amounts in excess of normal. In many parts of the Western Division no rain occurred, and on the North-West Slope district very few stations west of the mountains received more than 40 per cent. of their usual March totals, and on the whole there was a decided deficiency.

Vital Statistics—Sydney and Suburbs—March, 1916.—The births registered numbered 1,767, equal to 27·79 per 1,000 of population ; of the total, 904 were males and 863 females. The rate is 5 per cent. below the average for the previous five years.

The deaths numbered 665, namely, 346 males and 319 females, equal to a rate of 10·45 per 1,000 of population. The mortality rate is 5 per cent. above the average of the previous five years. The deaths were above the average in age groups 1 to 4 and 5 to 64 years, and 65 years and over, and below the rate for deaths under 1 year.

The infantile mortality was 66 per 1,000 births, being 9 per cent. below the average for March for the previous five years.

New Buildings—Metropolis.—According to returns supplied by the several Town Clerks, there were erected, in the Metropolitan area, during March, 500 new buildings ; the total for the three months, January to March, being 1,407.

Wheat Harvest, 1915-16.—See Table No. 71.

No. 71.—Wheat Harvest, 1915-16.

The compilation of the returns of the actual results of the Wheat Harvest is almost complete and admits of the publication of the following particulars for general information. Estimates have been included for several districts, the returns for which are still outstanding, but it is expected that the particulars now furnished will not be affected materially in the final revision.

Since the publication of the December estimate it has become apparent that farmers generally were too conservative in their quotations, and to such an extent that the mid-harvest estimate of 62,050,000 bushels has been exceeded by about  $5\frac{1}{4}$  million bushels. The State, therefore, has produced a wheat crop of  $67\frac{1}{3}$  million bushels, which is 29 million bushels in excess of the previous highest production in 1913-1914.

Notwithstanding the unfavourable results of the harvest in the previous year, the farmers sowed with wheat an area of 5,172,649 acres, which was over one million acres in excess of the previous season's wheat area.

The areas harvested for grain and hay have not been altered materially since the December estimate, but it appears that about 10,000 acres, originally intended to be cut for hay, were reserved for grain; also a further 5,000 acres, representing uncollected returns, have been added to the grain area.

The following table gives a summary of the areas and yields for each of the principal divisions of the State, as furnished by 22,252 growers:—

* Areas which failed entirely are included with the grain and hay areas.

The wheat yield for 1915-16 was returned as 22,570,535 bags, the production being converted to bushels on the basis of 2.9828 bushels per bag, the rate determined from the State Wheat Office returns.

The carry-over of breadstuffs was small in comparison with that of previous years, and the stocks of old season's and imported wheat and flour held in New South Wales at the end of November, 1915, did not exceed (in the equivalent of wheat) 300,000 bushels.

With a total production of 67,323,000 bushels, and allowing  $15\frac{1}{3}$  million bushels for local consumption and seed requirements, there will be available  $52\frac{1}{2}$  million bushels for export either as wheat or as its equivalent in flour.
